best to import your recordings and make notes after the lecture.

3. Audio Notetaker allows you to combine various different formats of information, text, audio, images and slides.

4. One method of using Audio Notetaker is to evaluate research reports or text documents. Record yourself or use a reader or screen reading software to read a paper, then import the audio and the document into Audio Notetaker and begin annotating the information.

5. You can import your Livescribe audio as an .m4a file and use the Audio Clean-Up function to improve the quality of the audio.

6. You can also import your DVR recordings and improve the quality of the recording via the Audio Clean-Up function.